Freightliners Farm Animals

The Farm prides itself on keeping top quality native and rare breed farm animals. We aim to show our visitors the variety that exists within British traditional farm animals and preserve those breeds that are in decline.

For this purpose, we have a breeding programme for Dexter cows, Golden Guernsey goats and Portland, Herdwick, Castlemilk Moorit, Ronaldsay, and Whitefaced Woodland sheep.

In 2002 Freightliners adopted a non-slaughtering policy and we always ensure that when animals are re-homed they go to responsible owners who respect this policy.

About Adopt an Animal

You can become a special friend of one of the Freightliners Farm animals. Olivia the cow, Holby the sheep, Ristoro the duck and many more of our animals need sponsors.

If you choose to adopt an animal your contribution will be put towards the animal's feed, their housing and any veterinary costs for one year.

When you adopt a Freightliners animal, you will be able to come to the Farm any time we are open and visit your sponsored animal.

Everyone has their favourite animal, make your choice from the list and become their best friend for one year!

If you become a sponsor you will receive:

- A Certificate
- Information Pack
- Regular Progress Reports

We will also keep you informed if anything particularly exciting happens to your animal or at the Farm.

N.B - The Sponsor does not own the animal. All decisions about our animal are made by the Farm. Freightliners is a working farm and our animals sometimes move to other farms or retire out of London.
